HIGH ROAD WEST have your say

The story so far

Thank you to all of the businesses that have responded to the consultation for exciting proposals for the High Road West area during the last three years.

Since we presented three masterplan options to you last summer, the council has used your valuable feedback to work with planning and design experts Arup on final proposals.

Together with Transport for London and the Greater London Authority, we've also been looking at how we can make big improvements to White Hart Lane Station.

You can still read last year's consultation documents, as well as the results and a detailed feedback report, by visiting www.haringey.gov.uk/highroadwest

Where are we now?

In September, you'll receive a consultation pack asking for your views on the final version of the masterplan for High Road West and improvements to White Hart Lane Station.

We want to hear your views before any final decisions are made, so it's really important you read through your pack and respond to the consultation.

What is a masterplan?

A masterplan is a technical document for an area that shows potential street layouts, public spaces, amount of housing and where key buildings could be.

You have been helping us to develop a masterplan over the last two years.

It is the best way to ensure we can bring the changes you have told us you want to the area, including more high-quality housing; better job and employment opportunities; tackling crime and anti-social behaviour, and improving community and leisure facilities.

Have your say

The final masterplan proposes big and important changes to bring improvements to High Road West, so it's vital that you have your say between Saturday, 13 September and Friday, 25 October.

You can find out more about the masterplan and have your say by:

- Reading your consultation booklet and sending back your feedback form
- Visiting the exhibition at The Grange Community Hub on White Hart Lane
- Visiting www.haringey.gov.uk/highroadwest and completing the survey
- Visiting Coombes Croft Library
- Speaking to council officers on the phone or face-to-face
