| Expected snow  |  | Salt before snow fall  |                                |  |
| The decision to undertake precautionary treatments should be, if appropriate, adjusted to take account of residual salt or surface moisture. |  |  |                                |  |
| All decisions should be evidence based, recorded and require continuous monitoring and review.   |  |  |                                |  |

Notes:

- (a) Particular attention should be given to the possibility of water running across carriageways and other running surfaces e.g. off adjacent fields after heavy rains, washing off salt previously deposited. Such locations should be closely monitored and may require treating in the evening and morning and possible other occasions. When a weather warning contains reference to expected hoarfrost, considerable deposits of frost are likely to occur. Hoarfrost usually occurs in the early morning and is difficult to cater for because of the probability that any salt deposited on a dry road too soon before its onset, may be dispersed before it can become effective.
- (b) Close monitoring is required under this forecast condition which should ideally be treated just as the hoarfrost is forming. Such action is usually not practicable and salt may have to be deposited on a dry road prior to and as close as possible to the expected time of the condition. Hoarfrost may be forecast at other times in which case the timing of salting operations should be adjusted accordingly.
- (c) If, under these conditions, rain has not ceased by early morning, crews should be called out and action initiated as rain ceases.
- (d) Under these circumstances rain will freeze on contact with running surfaces and full pre-treatment should be provided even on dry roads. This is a most serious condition and should be monitored closely and continuously throughout the danger period.
- (e) Weather warnings are often qualified by altitudes in which case differing action may be required from each depot.
- (f) Where there is any hint of moisture being present, a pessimistic view of the forecast should be taken when considering treatment to negatively textured surfaces.

- (a) Rate of spread for precautionary treatments may be adjusted to take account of variations occurring along the route such as residual salt, temperature variations, surface moisture (in the air or on the road surface) road alignment and traffic density.
- (b) All decisions should be evidence based, recorded and require continuous monitoring and review.
- (c) Ice refers to all ice on the road surface, including black ice.
