Data correct as at National Offer Day

* This school offers places based on a banding test. For full details see "How Offers were Made" online here:

www.haringey.gov.uk/children-and-families/schools-and-education/school-admissions/school-admissions-statistics

 Offers made based on random allocation, not distance, so there was no cut-off distance

Distance of last child offered under the distance criterion, as at 1 September (miles)

This table shows the furthest distances at which offers have been made (under the distance criterion), as at 1 September in each respective year.

These distances may be further from the school than those able to be offered on National Offer Day (see table above). This is due to the small percentage of places offered on National Offer Day which are then not accepted for various reasons, allowing places to be offered to children living further from these schools.

Data correct as at 1 September.

For details of faith schools please contact the schools directly.

The distances as at 1 September may not be further from the school than those able to be offered on National Offer Day. This is because offers made after National Offer Day are based solely on the school's oversubscription criteria, regardless of whether the application was submitted before or after the application deadline of 31 October. This means that sometimes the only offers made for a school after National Offer Day are to children who live closer to the school than the furthest child offered as at National Offer Day, but who had originally applied late.
