Introduction

Adulthood is a time of significant change for young people especially when they have disabilities. There are many decisions and choices for a young people, their families and carers to make about the future related to daily life. This can be complicated as support from education, health and social care may change when they get to 18.

Not everyone receiving children's social services will be eligible for Adult social care services, as the eligibility criteria is different. That is why preparing for adulthood should start early to plan the right support for young people, to achieve the outcomes they want.

This guide is for young people aged 14-25 with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) who are preparing for adulthood, also known as transition. This guide is also for their parents and carers and professionals working with them. It sets out how services should work together to support young people with special educational needs, disabilities, learning difficulties and mental health to prepare for adult life.

This guide includes the following:

Young people preparing to make their own decisions

The Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice 2015 states local authorities and others should normally engage directly with the young person when they turn 16, rather than their parents. However, the young person's family and parents should continue to be involved in discussions about the young person's future. The young person may also ask them to help in other ways such as attending meetings, filling in forms or receiving correspondence on their behalf. This is particularly important for 16 and 17 year olds, for whom parents will retain parental responsibility until they reach the age of 18.

After the age of 16, young people have the right to make requests and decisions under the Children and Families Act 2014. These include the right to:

- request an assessment for an Education, Health and Care (EHC) plan;
- make representation about what is included in their plan;
- request an education setting to be named in their plan;
- request a Personal Budget as part of their EHC plan;
- appeal to the First-tier Tribunal (SEND) if they are not happy with their plan.

The parents and family members of young people can continue to support them to make decisions or act on their behalf if this is what the young person wants.

The local authority, schools, colleges, health services and other agencies should continue to involve parents until the young person is 18 years old, although the final decision lies with the young person.

The local authority has the following legal responsibilities including:

- ensuring information, advice and support is available directly to young people; independent of their parents if that is what they want
- ensuring reviews of EHC plans for young people from age 13- 14 onwards, include a focus on preparing for adulthood
- ensuring young people have access to support from an independent skilled provider if they want or need this
- ensuring services provided by the local authority such as Adult social care and housing helps young people prepare for adulthood
- ensuring an Adult social care transition assessment for young people with SEND or disabilities if the authority thinks the young person will benefit from this.

Advocacy Mental Capacity and Court of Protection

Where a young person has difficulty being involved, a family member, friend, advocate or independent advocate appointed by the Council can support the young person to represent their interests.

Information on local advocacy services is at www.haringey.gov.uk/advocacy-services-haringey

The Mental Capacity Act 2005 (MCA) relates to people aged 16 and over. People are assumed to have capacity unless an MCA assessment has deemed otherwise. These assessments are undertaken by a social worker. The principles of the MCA are that people that lack capacity are empowered to make as many decisions for themselves as possible and that any decision made or action taken on their behalf is done so in their best interests.

Alternatively, their parents or carers can apply for a Court of Protection to become a Deputy, this means they can make decisions on financial and welfare matters after the young person is 18.

The Court of Protection is responsible for:

- deciding whether a person has the mental capacity to make a particular decision for themselves
- appointing Deputies to make decisions for people who lack mental capacity
- giving people permission to make one-off decisions on behalf of a person who lacks mental capacity
- making decisions about a lasting power of attorney or enduring power of attorney
- making a decision about applications to make statutory wills or gifts
- making decisions about when someone can be deprived of their liberty.

More information about Court of Protection is available at www.gov.uk/courts-tribunals/court-of-protection

Information about becoming a deputy is available at www.gov.uk/become-deputy

Careers advice for children and young people

Schools and colleges should provide students with independent careers advice and raise the career aspirations of their students with special educational needs and disabilities to widen their ambitions for employment. They should offer opportunities for taster sessions, work experience, mentoring, inspiring speakers/ role models to help young people to make informed decisions about their future aspirations.

Preparing for Adulthood reviews

EHC Plans should be used to actively monitor children and young people's progress towards their outcomes and future ambitions. The plans must be reviewed every 12 months.

The Year 9 EHC plan review and every subsequent annual review must focus on preparing for adulthood. This should include support in the following areas:

- to find suitable post-16 pathways that lead to outcomes for employment or higher education; training opportunities;
- to find a job and help to understand benefits;
- to prepare for independent living, including exploring decisions young people want to make for themselves discussing:
- where they want to live in the future and the support they will need;
- local housing options and support to find accommodation;
- housing benefits and money matters;
- eligibility for social care.
- to maintain good health and wellbeing in adulthood;
- to plan continuing health services from children's to adult's services and helping young people understand which health professional may work with them as adults; ensuring those professional understand the young person's needs. This should include the production of a Health Action Plan and prompts for annual health checks for young people with learning disabilities;
- travel support to enable independence;
- to participate and maintain relationships in the community – including support on activities in the community.

Reviews should be person-centred, consider what is working, what is not working well and what is important to the young person and what is important for the young person as they progress towards adult life.

Post 16 education

Young people aged 16-19 that continue education (who have an EHC plan, those aged over 19 and up to age 25) should have a clear study plan that enables them to achieve the best possible outcomes in adult life.

Schools and colleges should ensure courses enable progression to a qualification or work placement that is meaningful to the student without repeating learning already completed.

Vocational work placements should ensure activities prepare the young person for healthy, independent living that supports building relationships and engagement in the community.

Where a young person has an EHC plan it may be possible to consider funding packages of support across education health and social care that cover five days each week and include extra-curricular activities. The support package may be in a range of community settings.

The 16-19 Bursary Fund helps 16-19 year olds continue further education by helping to pay for the cost of transport, food or equipment. Young people in Care, Care Leavers and people with disabilities can make an application to their college for up to £1200. See the Gov.uk website.

Funding additional support in further education colleges

Some young people with SEND have their needs met from the college's core funding. If the cost of an individual's support is over and above the core funding additional funding (known as Top-up) can be paid by the local authority where the student lives to enable them to participate in learning. This is part of the High Needs Funding system.

High Needs Funding is for:

- pupils or students aged 5 to 18 with an EHC plan or SEN support with severe or complex needs, on the school roll and in full time attendance.
- those aged 19 to 25 in general Further Education institutions and Specialist Post-16 Institutions (SPIs) who have an EHC plan and require additional support costing over £6,000
- high Needs Funding cannot be used to fund students aged over 19 who do not have an EHC plan.
- the Skills Funding Agency is responsible for funding adult learning, this includes learning for those aged 19 and over with learning difficulties and/or disabilities who do not have an EHC plan.

Ceasing an Education, Health and Care plan

A local authority can cease to maintain an EHC plan if it determines that it is no longer necessary for the plan to be maintained if:

- the young person has taken up paid employment (excluding apprenticeships);
- the young person has started higher education (university);
- a young person aged 18 or over has left education and no longer wishes to engage in further learning;
- the young person has turned 25;
- the child or young person has moved to a different local authority;

→ the young person has met their outcomes as specified in their plan.

The local authority will do this by issuing a "cease to maintain notice" in writing to the parent or young person, stating the reasons why, after consulting with the young person/ their parents and head teacher of their school or college.

The young person can appeal if they disagree with the Local Authority's decision.

Independence and Housing options

Schools and family members should support young people to acquire independent living skills such as travel training, basic cookery skills, personal care and money management. Moving away from home is a huge step and should be thought through carefully. For more information see the Housing options section on page 22.

Employment and training

Young people not eligible for Adult social care services who do not wish to continue education after the age of 18, have some options to pursue employment or training.

My AFK and Haringtons are local providers that support young people with learning difficulties to find employment.

Central London Works is an employability programme designed for people with disabilities and health conditions to gain sustainable employment. Referral is via job centre plus or via the council. Participants will be assigned a dedicated caseworker who will support with all areas of employability including financial better off calculations, CV's, applications, interview support, motivation & confidence. Working alongside our caseworkers, participants can attend Health Educator Workshops on topics such as good sleep, nutrition, stress managements, pilates and many more wellbeing sessions. Their health team can support participants to get one to one support from a health professional, in addition to working with their caseworker.

Young people may wish to consider an Apprenticeship or Supported Internship and this should be discussed with their college who can provide more information about availability.

Haringey Adult Learning can support people with a range of skills to enable them to be more independent.

See the Information page at the end for more details and useful websites.

Making friends and building relationships

It is important that young people maintain friendships after school ends. Local community centres, libraries, youth clubs, churches, galleries, café's and schools offer a range of daytime and evening events and activities to help make new friends. These range from dance classes, music, singing as well as Scouts, Guides, art and pottery. Information is publicised on noticeboards and the internet.

Information at the end of this booklet will help you find something of interest.

Transitioning from children's health services to adult health services

Health pathways vary depending on the needs of the young person who may require a range of professionals from across community and hospital settings to ensure appropriate support is in place. A community provider such as the Haringey Learning Disabilities Partnership may work alongside primary care services (GPs) to support people with learning disabilities to access appropriate health care services.

Young people who already receive Continuing Care funding will be assessed by the children's clinical team and if appropriate, a referral will be made to the adult nurse assessors to determine eligibility for adult Continuing Healthcare funding at the age of 17.5.

A continuing healthcare assessment is also available to young people with complex medical needs if an initial checklist completed by nurse assessors demonstrates potential eligibility. If eligible for Continuing Health Care, a Personal Health Budget and Care Plan will be developed by the NHS at the age of 18 and over.

Adult Social Care services may continue to support carers as a duty under Care Act 2014, and would retain responsibility for safeguarding.

Transitioning to adult services

The local authority has a duty under the Care Act 2014 to carry out a needs assessment for a young person or carer if they are likely to have needs once they (or the child they care for) turn 18.

If a young person or young carer is likely to have needs when they turn 18, the local authority must assess them when it considers there is a significant benefit to the person. This may lead to services to support the person or carer or signposting to services in the community so the young person/ carer can remain as independent as possible.

If a young person does not meet Adult social care eligibility, then there may be support in the community to enable them to maximise their independence (see the information section on page 18-19).

PROCESS FOR ADULT SOCIAL CARE ASSESSMENT

Post 16 destination choices

Preparing for Adulthood Pathway: Helping young people move towards adult life

Age 13 to 14

- What do I want to do in the future
- During Year 9 at school: I need to think about my goals for the future and what I need to achieve them.
- Who will be able to help?
- Which services need to be involved?
- Who needs to attend review meetings or send reports
- I may need a Continuing Health Care assessment
- Reviews and those involved will use person centred tools such as My Transitions plan.

Age 15

- For my next review I need to plan who I want to attend or to send a report and how I want to make my views known: What is working? Have my goals changed?
- What needs to happen?
- Who needs to help?
- Which providers do I need to visit?
- Do I need a benefits check?

Age 16

- This could be my final year at school. I will have new rights at the end of year 11: I can make some decisions. What job I want? What skills do I need? How can I be independent? Do I want to stay at school or go to college?
- What support will I have when I am an adult?

Age 17

- At my next review, update actions, think about referral to adult social care for assessment and indicative budget to help with my support planning.

Age 17.5

- Has a referral to Adult social care been made?
- Has a Continuing Health Care assessment been done?
- Involve my GP.
- Are my benefits in the right name?
- Will I have a personal budget; who will help me with this?
- What further learning do I need?
- Where do I go for signposting and support?

Throughout the Transition process

Agree with current services who will need and can be sent information about me including adult services. I will need to let my GP have information about me. Ask for each meeting to be recorded and shared with the services I use/ will use in adult life.

Age 19-25

- I have friends
- I am independent
- I have good health
- I am in employment or training

Age 18-19

- At 18 I am an adult.
- I may choose a higher education or employment pathway
- I should check my benefits for entitlements
- I can use community services to build relationships

Who Is Lead Professional:

- ➔ If a child has an allocated social worker or early help family support worker then they are always the lead professional
- ➔ If a child is life limited or highly complex medical needs then the lead professional would be the school nurse or specialist health visitor
- ➔ If a child has an EHCP and the above do not apply, the lead professional is the SEN officer
- ➔ If a child has none of the above and no EHCP then the lead professional is the SENCO at nursery, school or college

Beyond the age of 19 years:

- ➔ Families, young people and involved professionals will consider whether special educational provision provided through an EHC plan will be necessary to enable the young person to progress towards agreed outcomes.
- ➔ Young people with EHC plans may take longer to achieve their outcomes, however, this does not mean there is automatic entitlement to continued support at age 19 and therefore the EHCP may not remain in place up until 25 years if the young person's outcomes have been met.
- ➔ Consider whether remaining in education would enable the young person to progress and achieve and whether the young person wants to remain in learning. Young people who no longer need to remain in formal learning or training will not require special educational provision to be made for them through an EHC plan.
- ➔ Person-centred Annual Review meeting to identify actions/support to enable preparation for adulthood.
- ➔ Consider whether all appropriate professionals/organisations are involved (including Advocate).
- ➔ Agree Lead professional: Lead professional monitors delivery of actions agreed.
- ➔ Review aims/outcomes, review existing action plans, agree further actions.
- ➔ Identify ongoing professionals involved and agree information sharing protocols/joint assessments or support plans, regularity of review.
- ➔ Identify other key transition points in the young person's journey – consider actions required to make these transitions as smooth as possible.
- ➔ Consider whether Preparing for adulthood pathway still applicable.
- ➔ Ensure the young person receives clear information about support they can receive, including information about seeking employment, continuing study in adult or higher education, and support for health and social care when their plan ceases.
- ➔ Develop exit plan for when EHC plan ceases.
